

Reception

The studio front door opens into the reception area which is equipped with tables and chairs. The area is large enough to hold some equipment throughout the day if you would like, but we also have the warehouse area where you can keep props and equipment during the day if you need to.

WC and dressing room

Off from the reception room are bathroom facilities and a private dressing room. The changing room can hold personal belongings, costumes or outfit changes, and provides a private space for presenters/actor during their time at the studio.

Post-production room

Reception also leads to our edit/post-production room. The edit room offers a quiet space to edit with two available PCs. There is also a sofa for additional people to discuss edits, view edits as you're working, or to work separately on a laptop. Looking for help with post production? Our studio team are available for professional post production services. Get in touch with us for more details: enquiries@canalwharfstudios.co.uk.

Kitchen

After walking through reception, you will enter our fully-equipped kitchen area. There running water, ample worktop space, a kettle, microwave, and fridge. There are also more separate bathroom facilities next door to the kitchen.

Viewing room

The viewing room is the gateway to the studio, and is a small space which allows those who wish to view filming in the studio to do so through a small window to the side of the studio, so as not to distract anyone while they are being filmed.

Control room

The control room again has space for two people, allowing them to control the autocue, shot set up, and audio.

Studio

The fully sound-proof studio space is equipped with two cameras, lighting rigs, autocue, microphones, and green screen. You are welcome to bring your own equipment or rent additional equipment for the day if you like, as well as bringing your own props. Please keep in mind the size of the studio space when considering what equipment/ props to bring with you.

Audio booth

In response to your requests, we are very pleased to offer a purpose-built audio booth for voice recording. The booth will offer everything you need for voice recording, playback, and editing.

Garage and vehicular access

Our garage space can house one car or van during your time using the studio. If you are bringing equipment with you, you can unload equipment from your vehicle in our garage or store equipment/props here throughout the day. Please keep in mind the dimensions of the warehouse/garage space size of the vehicle you will be bringing.
